ASCHAM, ROGER
THE SCHOLEMASTER OR PLAINE AND PERFITE WAY OF TEACHING CHILDREN

to understand, write and speake the Latin tong, but specially purposed for the private bringing up of youth in Gentlemen and Noble mens houses. London: Printed by John Daye, 1571. Second edition, 4to (185 x 132mm), [A1-2], B-T4, title within typographic border, large woodcut initial to [A2], large woodcut to recto of final leaf, Leaf 67 misnumbered 65, nineteenth century dark green morocco by Henderson & Bisset, spine lettered in gilt, g.e., some early marginalia, 4pp. of neat scholarly notes by William Graham to 2 extra leaves bound in at beginning, upper fore-margin of title renewed, fore-margin of 4 leaves [A2, B1-3] restored with 7 letters supplied in very neat pen facsimile by William Graham, corner of O2 renewed with a few letters supplied in very neat pen facsimile, ink ownership inscriptions to B1 margin (see Provenance), binding spine faded, [ESTC S100261], a little dampstaining

Note: Probably the most important Tudor work on education, a major influence on the development of classical humanism in Renaissance England. Ascham served as tutor to Princess (and Queen) Elizabeth. The Scholemaster, supposedly written as the result of a dinner debate with Sir William Cecil on the subject of flogging children, propounds humane teaching methods. The work remained unpublished at his death, and the impetus for its appearance came from his widow, Margaret.

Provenance: John Mason: "Johannes Mason Possessor/hujus libri 1726/ stetit [?]" "John Mason Soldier in Colls. Charles Howards Company in the Second Regiment of foot Guards", in margins of B1, William Graham, JP, FRSAS (1855-1922), Banker, Author of "The One Pound Note", Antiquary & Book Collector; Family books relating to the Andersons and Grahams of Edinburgh.

Like his father before him, and like his step-brother Christopher who vigorously supported Gaelic Schools, Robert Anderson (1768-1850) was devoted to the education of women and determined that his daughters should be educated as well as his sons. Similarly Roger Ascham served Queen Elizabeth, and on his death it is recorded that Elizabeth said she "would rather have cast £10,000 into the sea than lose her Ascham" Inspired by this and by Joseph Lancaster, Robert Anderson's daughter Euphemia Cargill Anderson, Sr (1801-1856) and her elder brother Robert, Jr. (1799-1868), a mathematics teacher, opened the Gayfield Square School for Young Ladies in Edinburgh in 1834.

ELYOT, SIR THOMASTHE BOKE NAMED THE GOUVERNOUR DEUISED BY SYR THOMAS ELYOT KNIGHT

Londini: [in ædibus Thomæ Bertheleti typis impress. Cum priuilegio ad imprimendum solum, An. 1544]. Fourth edition, small 8vo (137 x 81mm), a2-[a8], A1-8 - Z8, a-d8, fine late 19th century or early 20th century paneled calf gilt by Henderson and Bissett, lettered in gilt, g.e., several leaves professionally repaired not affecting text, contemporary pen drawing of a lady's face on a8, next to which in secretarial script is a prayer and the initials M. [D. ?, L. ? or (possibly) A. ?], presumably the owner: "From the horns of unicorns and the roaring of lions, good Lord, save thy poor handmaiden". The reference to unicorns and lions is taken from Psalm 22, v.21. Lady Elyot's (1500-1560/69) maiden name was Margaret à Barrow or Aborough, so one might speculate the initials are M.A.; lacking the title page, later reduced copies of Holbein's portraits of Sir Thomas and Lady Elyot bound in, [ESTC S100426]

Provenance: William Graham, JP, FRAS (1855-1922), Banker, Author of "The One Pound Note", Antiquary & Book Collector; Family books relating to the Andersons and Grahams of Edinburgh

Note: Sir Thomas Elyot's The boke named the Governour appeared in 1531, one year before Machiavelli's The Prince. This copy is the fourth edition, the last to be published during Sir Thomas's lifetime. It is reckoned the first book in Modern English and one of the earliest books exhibiting the spreading influence of the Renaissance and Humanism in England (see Printing and the Mind of Man, p.41, No. 191). Elyot's 19th century editor, Henry Croft, described it as "the earliest treatise on moral philosophy in the English language". It was intended to direct the education of those destined to fill high positions, and to inculcate those moral principles which alone could fit them for the performance of their duties.

Margaret Elyot, née à Barrow or Aborough, was learned in her own right, personally tutored by Sir Thomas More, in whose house she was brought up. It may be speculated therefore that this might have been her copy: given the secretarial hand and her probable knowledge of the Miles Coverdale Bible (1535), the first complete Bible in Modern English, significantly comparable with her husband's "The Governour"

The drawing and inscription is of particular interest. Drawing a "self-portrait" next to an inscription is not uncommon, and the drawing does echo Holbein's portrait of Margaret Elyot. If Margaret did not have her own copy of the Holbein portraits, it is conceivable that she may have drawn her own "copy" here.

Katy Gardiner was the vendor's mother's stage name which she used after separating from Eddie Boyd. The vendors took over the rent of Alasdair's huge Hill Street flat when he and his wife and young child moved to the ground floor in 1966.

LAWRENCE, T.E.SEVEN PILLARS OF WISDOM, A TRIUMPH

London: Jonathan Cape, 1935. First trade edition, a unique "grangerised" copy, compiled by Eric Kennington, the 'art editor' of the 1926 or 'Subscribers' edition, who created this 1935 edition as a record of his friendship with T.E. Lawrence. Included are photographed pages from one of the only six surviving copies of the 1922 Oxford edition, including the whole of the deleted "Chapter 1", as well as other sections, inserted at relevant places within the volume. He also photographed some of the many illustrations from the 1926 'Subscribers' or 'Cranwell' edition, placing these within the pages of this 1935 copy and on occasion adding hand-written captions. This included photographs of the wood-engraved endpapers created by Kennington, together with a typed extract of a copy of a letter dated 1922 from Lawrence to Kennington discussing these engravings. Kennington also typed details of the 1922 copy that he used, 'the fourth of eight copies' and transcribes the different version of the poem to S.A. that was typed within this copy. It will be recalled that two of the eight "1922" editions were broken up in the production of the "1926" edition. Considering the copying procedures of the period the completion of this grangerised volume must have been a time-consuming labour of love, volume preserved in brown cloth folding box

Note: "Fourteen years friendship & 5 years work is great wealth. Eric H. Kennington, Jan. 1936" - so Kennington summarises on the front endpaper his relationship with Lawrence creating the 1926 'Subscribers' edition of Seven Pillars of Wisdom.

The extract quoted from a letter from Lawrence to Kennington dated 27/10/22 reads "...Your drawings are wonderful. The Dysentery. The Nightmare. The Snowstorm. I never imagined my chance of getting such pictures... There's a hypnotic suggestion about your work which makes me give in to it, when I stare at it. So I like THE DREAM very much in retrospect... There was a little bit of land behind the palm tree, leading to the sword, which felt peaceful. The sword is odd. The Arab Movement was one: Faisal another (his name means a flashing sword), then there is the excluded notion, the Garden of Eden touch: and the division meaning like the sword in the bed of mixed sleeping, from the Morte d'Arthur. I don't know which was in your mind, but they all came to me AND THE SWORD ALSO MEANS CLEAN-NESS AND DEATH"

LAWRENCE, T.E.

SEVEN PILLARS OF WISDOM, A TRIUMPH.

[Privately Printed, 1926], 4to, the 'Subscribers' or 'Cranwell' edition, one of 32 'incomplete' copies [from an edition of 211 copies], inscribed by Lawrence "Incomplete copy lxii.26 TES" on page XIX, front and rear endpapers wood-engravings by Eric Kennington, "Some Notes on the Writing of Seven Pillars of Wisdom" (1927) [O'Brien A039], and 1 folding map tipped in at beginning, frontispiece portrait of 'Feysal' by Augustus John, 3 further folding maps, 1 aerial photographic plate, 5 photographic plates by T.E. Lawrence and 24 other plates, mostly in colour, and other text illustrations, after Eric Kennington, Blair Hughes-Stanton, William Roberts, Edward Wadsworth etc., original maroon half morocco by Roger de Coverley, t.e.g., spine with gilt decoration and lettering ("The Seven Pillars") in six compartments with raised bands, t.e.g. [O'Brien A040], binding lightly faded, housed in a custom made maroon half morocco solander box lettered in gilt

Note: The limited edition of Lawrence's epic masterpiece.

Seven Pillars is "a personal, emotional narrative of the Arab revolt in which Lawrence reveals how by sheer willpower he made history. It was a testimony to his vision and persistence and a fulfilment of his desire to write an epic ... its climax is the Arab liberation of Damascus, a victory which successfully concludes a gruelling campaign and vindicates Lawrence's faith in the Arab" (ODNB).

One of the 32 'incomplete' copies that Lawrence's bibliographer O'Brien notes were presented to the men who had served with Lawrence in Arabia and who were unable to pay the high price asked for the complete issue.

Lawrence had dreams, at least from his undergraduate days at Oxford, of printing fine books. This work represents his sole practical involvement in fine printing, using his own text.

Between 1919 and 1922 four separate drafts were written; of the last he had eight copies printed in 1922 by The Oxford Times for copyright purposes. Preparations for a sumptuous edition proceeded during 1922-5, during which time Lawrence was variously an aircraftman and private in the Tank Corps.

A number of young artists were commissioned to provide the illustrations including Kennington, the Vorticists Roberts, Wadsworth and Dobson, and the more established Augustus John. Kennington travelled to the Middle East to make sketches of many of the main protagonists in the text. His resulting pastel illustrations are particularly striking. The plates were intended to act as "decorational islands" between the books as appendices and not as direct illustrations to the text.

As the volume was completed in late 1926, and copies initialled and dated XII/26, with the final touches in place and just a few copies despatched, Lawrence was posted to India at the turn of the year, leaving the printer Manning Pike to send out the remainder of the large volumes.

Provenance: By repute from the library of the Arabist and T.E. Lawrence scholar and diplomat St. John Armitage, and given to him by Brigadier Malcolm Gray Dennison. From St. John Armitage it passed to the bookseller David Sedgwick who loaned it to the German exhibition in Oldenburg and Cologne in 2011, Lawrence von Arabien. Genese eines Mythos; the copy is superbly illustrated in the exhibition catalogue, a copy of which is included in the lot. This copy was recorded by Sedgwick as apparently given to St John Armitage by Dennison. St John Armitage (1924-2004) was a friend of Dennison (1924-1996) and gave the address at his funeral.

[LAWRENCE, T.E.] - BRUCE ROGERS - HOMER THE ODYSSEY

[translated by T.E. Lawrence]. [London: Printed and published by Sir Emery Walker, Wilfred Merton and Bruce Rogers, 1932]. 4to, one of 530 copies on grey Barcham Green, designed by Bruce Rogers and printed in Monotype Centaur, title-vignette and 23 head-pieces after Greek vase paintings printed as roundels in black on gold, bound in black morocco, spine titled in gilt, t.e.g., others uncut, black slipcase, slipcase slightly rubbed

Note: A fine copy of this glorious edition of T.E. Lawrence's translation of the Odyssey. In Joseph Blumenthal's Bruce Rogers. A Life in Letters Blumenthal describes this volume: "I believe the Bruce Rogers Odyssey is indisputably amongst the most beautiful books ever produced. It is difficult to describe a work of genius. In the Odyssey without tricks or accessory decoration, with a classic austerity akin to the timeless proportions of the Parthenon, with only type and paper and ink, with consummate skill, Rogers created a masterpiece".

WILDE, OSCAR - AND LORD ALFRED DOUGLAS
EPISTOLA IN CARCERE ET VINCULIS [DE PROFUNDIS]

Berlin: S. Fischer, 1925. 8vo, second to sixth edition, original brown quarter cloth over gilt-stamped black paper boards, ownership signature and pencil notes of Roger Senhouse on front-free endpaper regarding the history and publication of the text, referencing Lord Alfred Douglas, Robert Ross and the 16 copies of De Profundis printed to secure copyright in the USA, [And] Verbatim Report of the Trial of Noel Pemberton Billing, M.P. on a charge of Criminal Libel... London: 'Vigilante' Office, 1918. First edition no.803, 8vo, original blue cloth gilt (2)

Note: Report of the 'Berlin Black Book' trial of the politician Noel Pemberton Billing - a libel trial after Pemberton Billing claimed that the German authorities possessed a list of 47,000 British names who they considered to be 'sexual deviants', with the intention of blackmail. He implicated the dancer Maud Allen in the claims, calling her private performance of Oscar Wilde's Salome "an open representation of degenerated sexual lust...and unnatural passions...by one Oscar Wilde..." Allen and her colleague J.T. Grein sued for libel. Pemberton Billing's defence hinged greatly on his view of Oscar Wilde as a "moral pervert", and Lord Alfred Douglas, known as a lover of Oscar Wilde, was called as a witness. Lord Alfred Douglas's account of his relationship with Wilde and his quarrel with Robert Ross are recorded in this transcript - including the moment he called Oscar Wilde "...the greatest force for evil that has appeared in Europe during the last 350 years." Although it had transpired that even the judge in the case was on the mysterious list of 47,000 names, the trial continued and Pemberton Billing was acquitted.

[JANE, LADY GREY] - QUEEN JANE'S COUNCIL
TWO DOCUMENTS, INCLUDING THE PROCLAMATION OF QUEEN MARY I, MARY TUDOR

document issued by Queen Jane's Council, directed to the Bishop of Salisbury and six Wiltshire and Gloucestershire knights, announcing the proclamation of Mary Tudor as Queen, dated 19th July 1553 at Baynard's Castle (City of London) "From Baynardes Castell the xixth of July 1553", subscribed by Thomas Cranmer as Archbishop of Canterbury, Thomas Goodrich as Bishop of Ely, The Marquess of Winchester, the Earl of Bedford, the Earl of Shrewsbury, The Earl of Pembroke, Sir Thomas Cheyne, Sir John Cheke, and Sir William Cecil, declaring that Mary Tudor is: "in juste and lafull possession of thimperiall crowne of this realme...", 21 x 30cm; [The Second Document] Chaffyn, Thomas report on Queen Mary's speech to the Commons on the 1st February 1554, with a second section describing the Duke of Suffolk (Henry Grey) being charged in court for High Treason on the 17th February 1554, subscribed "T.C", folio, folded, 20.5 x 30cm (2)

Note: The first letter, sent by Lady Jane Grey's Privy Council, formally acknowledges the reign of Queen Mary I, thus abandoning Lady Jane Grey's claim to the throne. The letter states: "wee having no good oportunitie afore yhis tyme have proclaymed this day in the Citie of London, our sovereign lady Quene Marye to be in juste and lafull possession of thimperiall crowne of this realme, as by the proclamation sent to youe herewith more playnly shall appere..."

Lady Jane Grey was famously 'Queen for nine days' following the death of the young Edward VI on 6th July 1553, who had written the 'Device' proclaiming that she should be his heir, being a Protestant, unlike his elder sister, Mary Tudor. On 10th July, Jane was declared Queen by the Privy Council. However, Jane's support quickly dwindled in favour of Mary and, on the 19th July, the Privy Council switched allegiances and declared Mary to be Queen, as seen in this letter. Jane, not yet aged eighteen, was subsequently executed at the Tower of London on the 12th February 1554. Her father, Henry Grey, the 1st Duke of Suffolk, was executed several days later for his part in another attempt to overthrow Mary I when she announced her intention to marry King Philip of Spain.

No carriages driving about, not even a beast of burden to be seen. No groups of noisy talkers. No profane Language to be heard. This speaks well for the morals of the people." 19 x 12cm, green cloth

SIGNED POEM, COMPRISING

2 A.L.S. to Walter Keir, 18th Feb. 1962, discussing Crichton Smith's poem & Macdiarmid on Hume "Smith's poem is very impressive, in parts anyway" "The Macdiarmid thing on Hume was awful. Strange that such a great poet should manifest himself so boringly in prose! The thing sounded just like the lectures MacDiarmid gives, hellish! ...", 2pp, 6 Well Park, Stromness; and 8th Jan. 1968 "the press cutting was uplifting to the soul, but alas, I have a worldly scale inside me that tells me soberly just why my limitations and abilities are. I can turn out a tale like any journeyman, and have the cunning to hide defects with flourishes... it has been a strange winter with me. My mother dies in November so I live here all alone... the Society of Authors offered me a travelling grant of £250 to travel abroad and meet foreign writers. I hope they consider Ireland "abroad" because they're the only authors I'd particularly care to meet. I don't particularly care for authors as a race - so many of them are vain, egotistical & boring (of course there are dear exceptions), 3 pages, 6 Well Park, Stromness; 3 autograph letters to Harry S.M. Taylor (Periodicals Dept. University Library, Edinburgh), 2 from Tor na Dee Sanatorium, Milltimber, Aberdeen, 1st Jan 1961 and 21st Feb. 1961, (1) "the date above should give you some insight into the plane of high seriousness on which my life is now conducted", saying "if I had the money I would organise a [] bus trip, with the following 20 persons invited (this trip would be on a Sabbath there would be suitable refreshments, Milne's pies, six bottles of Glen Grant, 200 tins of export and 6 packets of Rowntree's Fruit Gums for HSMT I reckon the entire trip would cost me £30... J. Broom, P Hughes, S.G. Smith, HSM Taylor, W. Maclean, D. Marcarthur, J. Durkin, R. Thomson [other names will be issued soon like Mr Kennedy forming his cabinet]. Tickets will be issued from this office in due course, as soon as the sonnets appear... Prayers at the beginning and end would be offered by Rev. John Broom, the Humanist Father... Now to be serious. Groping my way carefully through medieval history, I'm amazed at the highly organised rituals that pervaded every level of human activity... I know something about the Orkney midsummer fertility rites... I have learned in a devious manner that you yourself are an initiate into some of the more modern mysteries. I will indicate to you how tremendously exciting are some of the things that go on under the banal surface of life, closer to the roots and sources of creation... There were also a rite of Poets of Architects, of Knights, Merchants etc... probably the rite took place in darkened room with appropriate symbolism on the walls, and the questions coming out of need darkness..." this is followed by a long passage with the imagined Interrogation of the new king. "the rite of Poets is even more fascinating. I am not at liberty of course to discuss the least word or action of it, except to say that it definitely exists and is celebrated today. In Scotland, at the moment, there are four initiates.

Useless to challenge them - they wouldn't betray themselves by the least flicker of an eyelid. I only tell you these things because I know you will respect the mystery..." 9 pages; (2) to Harry, "I had hoped that my secret work here would be finished in time for my return to HQ in Edinburgh next Monday, along with that hidden Jesuit, Fr. John Broom", saying that "my superiors Mgr Boyle and Canon Redeye wish me to stay for a further week, in order to complete my report. The report, I think, when it is read at the secret conclave, will be a rather staggering one. It suggests for example that the arts are no longer necessary in our society - the poet is going the way of the witch and the miracle-working saint. No longer necessary but that is not to say that they will no longer exist in the mechanistic society of the future in other explosive forms. It suggests too that the artist have betrayed their calling - they have been seduced by the bitch-goddesses "Beauty" and "Culture" - but the true function of poetry and art has always been necromancy, to effect desired changes by a unique and mysterious manipulation of symbols". 2 pp. Tor na Dee Hospital, 21 Feb. 1961; (3) to Harry [Taylor] "I can just picture the scene at Milne's with Miss Cartwright, Mr McLean, Mr Callum Campbell, &c... Here on my Sabine farm I live in great quietness", referring to Taylor's offer to help him obtain a post of some kind in the book line. "Here there is no suitable work. One comes to hate the continual harassment by National Insurance and Ministry of Labour I might fit in for a time in some bookshop or library", referring to Arthur Swanson, John Broom, referring to Hogmanay activities on Orkney, and quoting Wallace Stevens poetry, 4pp, 6 Well Park, Stromness, 2 Dec. 1961; (4) Initialled postcard to Harry Taylor, (5) Christmas card, signed by G.M.B. with short autograph poem lampooning the card "Saints crowned with flying saucers", 4 lines, with beneath it "A fragment of original Mackay Brown, quite priceless, holograph"; (6), Printed poem "Maes Howe Winter", with printed illustration by Simon Fraser, inscribed "from George"

FOTHERGILL, GEORGE ALGERNON

THE MSS OF SYMBOL OF STRIFE [A MANUSCRIPT TRIBUTE TO ROBERT BURNS]

The MSS of Symbol of Strife - Robert Burns, & 11 other lyrics on the Scottish Bard... Cramond Bridge, 1927. Bound 8vo manuscript, comprising a 7 page introduction dated 7.2.27 and signed George A. Fothergill; followed by 10pp. comprising two workings of Fothergill's poem "Symbol of Strife - Robert Burns", dated January and February 1927; followed by 10 leaves containing further poems on the subject of Burns dating from between 1911 and 1927; followed by 18 typewritten pages containing Fothergill's poems; contemporary blue boards, manuscript label to upper cover, bookplate, a little light internal foxing, a little wear to spine and covers

Note: The artist George Algernon Fothergill, 1868-1945, was clearly a great admirer of Robert Burns, who becomes the muse for this bound volume of manuscript and typewritten poetry. Curiously, much of the manuscript contents is written on the reverse side of Fothergill's engravings. Fothergill making a note to this effect on the contents page: "The prints, done from my pictures, which appear at the back of most of these pages have nothing to do with the verse - I was hard up for paper at the time I wrote all this so recklessly used the plates..."

GANDHI, MOHANDAS

FINGERPRINTS AND SIGNATURE, ON CARDBOARD

A sheet of paper, 18 x 27cm (7 x 10 1/2 in), affixed to cardstock, in fair to poor condition. The item has remained unaltered since at least 1974. The sheet has the impressions of all of Mahatma Gandhi's fingerprints, with the signed annotation: "This is what I gave voluntarily at the risk of my life to keep my promise to the Government. Phoenix, Natal, 15th February 1909, M.K. Gandhi"

Provenance: The item can be traced back reliably no earlier than 1970, when it hung in a picture frame on the corridor wall of the home of Frank and Phyllis Holland, grandparents of the vendor, in Magaliesburg, South Africa. Their son Christopher Holland brought the item to Canada in 1975, and it has remained in the family's direct possession ever since.

Note: In the early 1900's Mahatma Gandhi was active as a lawyer in South Africa, and one of his notable efforts was to organize public resistance to the South African government's mandatory fingerprinting of "Indian" South African residents in 1907 and 1908. Gandhi was repeatedly arrested and imprisoned for refusing to submit to the fingerprinting of himself and other "Indians". The date and timing of this item - 15th February 1909; Phoenix, Natal - corresponds to this history.

In October 1908, Gandhi, after a visit to Natal, returned to the Transvaal, at the border refusing to produce a registration certificate or other means of identity, and was charged for this under section 9 of the Asiatic Registration Amendment Act, a law which had only been in force since 21st September 1908. Gandhi took the opportunity of his appearance in court to explain his reasons for leading resistance to the Asiatic Registration Act and the related Asiatic Registration Amendment Act. He was sentenced to two months imprisonment, but released when he agreed to voluntary registration.

The cursive signature "MK Gandhi" corresponds to known proven examples of Mahatma Gandhi's signature. The fingerprints cannot be compared to the known fingerprints of Mahatma Gandhi, as there are no known examples. The item appears to be the only existing example of Mahatma Gandhi's fingerprints.

For a detailed account of the importance of compulsory fingerprinting in Gandhi's peace movement (Satyagraha) during the early 1900's, follow this link

Otherwise Cape would have bolstered the film with a cheap edition, which would have sold three copies for each of the 30/- ones... I bless you daily for cancelling that edition", discussing his probable departure for Peshawar "It is a misery, going to a strange camp. They goggle at me with all their eyes, for the first month, wondering why I'm not odder, and all the little newnesses of strange routines & disciplines keep my attention on the raw"... the construction of swimming baths at Karachi using 'Revolt' money that had been donated to the RAF Benevolent Fund, this pool was to be "for married families and officers" and TE even details a rota for its use. At the end of the letter he states "Indeed Revolt wasn't a book at all. It was a sort of solvent of an overdraft: a financial instrument", slightly browned, slightly split at one fold

METZ, FRANCE. DOCUMENT CONCERNING PAYMENTS TO A GARRISON, IN FRENCHDATED AT METZ, 17 APRIL 1586

single sheet, 402 x 357mm, vellum, 37 lines in brown ink in a fine documentary hand, signed at the bottom edge by Roger de Comminges, Lord of Saubole, Regnault de Rene and Richard Landon, docket with 16th century inscription, creases, light soiling to edges, a few small stains

Note: "Roolle de la monstre et Reveue faicte en la ville de Metz le dix septiesme jour d'april mil cinq cents quatre vingts six d'une compagnie de cinquante hommes de guerre, harquebusiers a cheval estant pour le service du Roy en garnison en la y ville de Metz sous la charge du cappitaine Saubolle, leur cappitaine par nous Regnault de Rene, commissaire extraordinaire des guerres", granted by Germain Le Charron, treasurer of the King.

The Imperial Free City of Metz was one of three bishoprics in Lorraine long claimed by the kings of France. In January 1552, Henry II of Valois demanded it as the price of his alliance with the German princes against the Emperor Charles V. Metz was occupied by the French in April 1552 and the Duke of Guise, François I de Lorraine, was appointed governor. By the summer, Charles V raised an army to put the German princes revolt down and recapture Metz. The siege began in earnest on 31st October and the Emperor himself arrived on 20th November. However, the city was strongly held, so that by the end of the year, it was clear that the siege had failed. It was lifted on January 1553. Charles V made another attempt to retake the bishopric one year later, but this also ended in failure. As a result the bishopric remained in French hands and was officially ceded to France at the end of the Thirty Years War.

Metz was one of the most important fortified towns of the sixteenth century, being the main stronghold on the French eastern borders. In 1583, the King, Henry III appointed the Duke of Epemon as Governor. In 1586 his cousin Roger de Comminges Sauboler was also appointed captain, leading an army of fifty men-at-arms.

Note: One of the reasons for the failure of the 1745 rebellion was the fact that the promised French support did not arrive. In February 1744 Charles left Dunkirk with thousands of fighting men and ships provided by Louis XV. Before the Royal Navy had to engage with them a storm got up. French boats were sunk and men were lost. The surviving ships including Charles's had to limp back to France.

Involved in the failure was James Barry, fourth Earl of Barrymore, who served as general in the War of the Spanish Succession. Late in life he took the impulsive decision to support Charles Edward Stuart, "Bonnie Prince Charlie", and became a figure of national importance when he was discovered as the English rebel who would meet the invading French army in 1744. His advanced age saved him from prosecution and probable execution.

PENNANT, THOMAS [J.A. HARVIE-BROWN'S COPY]BRITISH ZOOLOGY

London: B. White, 1768-1768, vol. 3 Chester 1769, vol. 4 Chester 1770. 4 volumes, 8vo, engraved plates, many of the birds coloured by hand, interleaved copy with interesting contemporary marginal notes probably by Rev. E.H.W. Way of Denham near Uxbridge, modern quarter calf, marbled sides, morocco labels, bookplate of J.A. Harvie-Brown re-inlaid to front endpaper, stamp on titles only of Royal Scottish Museum, with Cancelled stamp

Note: An interesting copy, formerly belonging to J.A. Harvie-Brown. A manuscript letter bound in to J.A. Harvie Brown from Professor Alfred Newman of Magdalene College Cambridge, addressed to "my dear Brown", discusses the edition and the likely former owner who has annotated some of the interleaves. Newman believes on the evidence put forward presumably by Harvie Brown that the mostly likely former owner was the Rev. E.H.W. Way of Denham near Uxbridge. Newman states is that Denham is "where the Reed Warbler was first clearly recognised - see Yarrell, ed. 4, i. p.369" and enquires whether the present copy contains any mention of the fact. He also mentions that Gladstone visited the college the previous week where he planted a tree, which had been swiftly stolen. At the end a note from William Wesley to J.A. Harvie Brown regarding the book is bound in.

THE DARWIN CENTENARY JUNE 22ND-24TH, 1909

A COLLECTION BY DR. R.S. WOODWARD,

The collection, containing 27 items, can be divided into 3 sections:

A - Manuscript

1: 'Notes on the Darwin Centenary' A5 manila envelope labelled in Woodward's hand.

7 sheets of yellow, lined foolscap notepaper containing 9 pages of Woodward's autograph account of the Darwin Commemoration written in pencil with extensive corrections. This narrative is apparently unpublished although the care with which the revisions and corrections have been executed suggests private circulation or perhaps delivery as a paper or speech.

After making some commonplace remarks about Darwin's significance in relation to Newton, Woodward turns to the centenary celebration itself: 'certainly there were never a larger body of men of rare scientific attainments so assembled on an occasion of such significance in conjunction with the progress of human knowledge... The entire learned world from Chile to Japan joined in paying homage to the memory of a man hard at work only the other day.' Although she travelled with him Woodward's wife goes unnamed throughout the 'Notes'. Nonetheless her experiences at a late evening reception at Peterhouse and at the Ladies Dinner at Newnham are obliquely recounted.

Woodward's tone is serious and respectful throughout, sometimes awestruck by the scale of the ceremonial in Cambridge's ancient halls, but most alive when confronted by objects and people known to Darwin himself. There is the moment in Darwin's rooms at Christ's College when he catches sight of the monkey which was dangled over Darwin's head during an honorary degree ceremony at the Senate House in 1877. Particularly affecting is Woodward's starstruck reaction at a late evening party at Pembroke College when he finds himself able to look into the faces of and really exchange greetings with such colossal figures as Sir Joseph Hooker, just approaching his 93rd birthday and Mrs Thomas Huxley, keen and bright eyed at 86, Mrs Sidgwick... gentle voiced almost painfully retiring little woman whom, after the first few minutes of conversation you felt you had always known'.

B - Printed Ephemera

1: Darwin Commemoration June 22-24, 1909 Provisional Programme.
[2] With oval stamp presumably on receipt at Woodward's office: 'Carnegie Institution Feb 15 1909 Washington'. A brief resume of events with notes about Hospitality and a request to inform the organisers whether they will be accompanied by a Lady'.

'University of Cambridge Darwin Celebration', A4 sized printed envelope issued on arrival in Cambridge to Woodward containing invitations etc. Printed with University Coat of Arms and 'Darwin Celebration' letterhead, accomplished in manuscript: 'Dr R S Woodward c/o Lady Jebb Springfield' Lady Cara Jebb was the wife of Richard Jebb, Professor of Greek, and a distant Darwin relative, being the aunt of the writer Gwen Raverat.

'Darwin Celebration' A5 Compliments Slip, Accomplished in manuscript with the date, 'May [12th] 1909'.

'Programme'. 4 page, quarto sized, printed bifolium with detailed programme of events, Tuesday June 22 Thursday June 24. Woodward has annotated the programme jotting down 'Senate House' beside the Wednesday morning 'Presentation of Addresses' and correcting the time of the evening reception at Pembroke College as well as writing 'Mr and Mrs' alongside events open to wives.

'List of Delegates and Other Guests Invited by the University', large quarto size, pp 26. Dated June 19, 1909 with 'Final Lists' in top corner of card cover. Laid in, a compliments slip from the Honorary Secretaries. Woodward's name appears on the first page as President of the Carnegie Institution, Washington.

TUESDAY JUNE 22

Reception by the Chancellor, Small Broadside relating to Academic Dress and the Reception of Delegates in the Fitzwilliam Museum, Tuesday June 22.

7 Invitation to Reception in the Fitzwilliam Museum by the Chancellor of the University of Cambridge. Oblong card with crest of the University in colour; accomplished in manuscript: 'Dr and Mrs R S Woodward'

In his manuscript 'Notes on the Darwin Centenary' Woodward records that after the 'kindly formalities' of the Chancellor's introduction at the head of the Grand Stairway of the Fitzwilliam Museum 'the guests passed into the picture galleries where for once the priceless treasures must have been forgotten in the moving picture of life and colour which presented themselves.' Escaping these galleries the Woodwards continued their evening at a reception at Peterhouse College next door where the ladies were warmed with 'white Shetland wool scarfs... The thoughtful courtesy disarmed every American souvenir hunter I am sure'.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 23

'Order of Proceedings in the Senate House Wednesday, June 23, 1909', pp 12. Large quarto, sewn. The order is printed on the cover with a list of the delegates occupying 9 pages of the pamphlet, Woodward's name printed on page 3. Woodward recalls this as the 'most impressive function of the week' in his 'Notes', set in the 'simple, oblong auditorium of the House with its overhanging, narrow galleries on the four sides, its grey time stained stone walls lighted by tall classical windows... brilliant with the varied colors of the diversified robes worn by the delegates'. However the picturesque entrance of Lord Rayleigh and his flunkies into the Senate House is contrasted with his speech-making: 'His address was of course eulogistic of Darwin but delivered in so feeble a voice we were glad the ever present reporter was probably furnished with a copy for the next day's press.'

Invitation, A5 size, to American delegates to the unveiling of 'their most splendid and most welcome gift of a bronze bust of Charles Darwin'.

Notice to Delegates, small quarto size broadside with notice of a photograph of Delegates at Christ's College, Wednesday afternoon.

Invitation, 'The Master and Fellows of Christ's College at Home', oblong printed card, Wednesday June 23rd, 4-6. Accomplished in manuscript: 'President and Mrs Woodward' Woodward recounts in the 'Notes' his excitement on entering Darwin's rooms to find himself surrounded by 'Manuscripts, letters, copies of first editions with Darwin's own notes... There were, too, many of the rock specimens collected by him during the famous voyage of the Beagle'.

Programme of Music, 'The Darwin Centenary 1909, Christ's College Garden' A5 flyer with music for the Garden Party played by the Band of H M. Royal Marines, including works by Sullivan, Grieg and Wagner Invitation to a 'Banquet in the New Examination Hall', Wednesday June 23, at 7 p.m. Large stiff card, accomplished in manuscript: 'Dr R S Woodward'; folded to fit in a pocket. In his 'Notes' Woodward respectfully records the presence of the great and good at the banquet, including 'ten distinguished members of the Darwin family'.

Banquet 23 June 1909, Plan of Tables. Large (110mm x 45 mm / 4.3" x 1.6") folding plan with alphabetical list of delegates. Woodward was seated at the foot of Table L, next to Newton's successor at Cambridge, the Lucasian Professor of Mathematics, Joseph Larmor.

'Darwin Celebration Cambridge, June, 1909 Speeches Delivered at the Banquet Held on June 23rd.' Cambridge Daily News, July 1909, pp 22. A pamphlet published a month after the event, preface by George and Francis Darwin, directing the publication to 'those who were present

[who] may like to possess a memento'. Together with (loosely inserted)

Large compliments slip "With the Compliments of sir George Darwin and Mr Francis Darwin." (inserted into item 15.)

17. Ladies Dinner Newnham College, 23 June 1909. Folding stiff card menu and programme of music for the corresponding women's dinner

Ladies Dinner, Plan of Tables. Mrs Woodward is found on Table A. [I've also spotted a "Ms Stephen" which, after discussion with a Woolf expert, is very likely to be the the 27 year-old Virginia Woolf, whose family was very close with the Darwins.]

Invitation to a late evening reception: 'The Master and Fellows of Pembroke College At Home.. 9.20 to 12', small oblong card, coloured College crest. Accomplished in manuscript: 'Mrs Woodward'. Woodward records his pleasure at being able to attend this 'brilliant gathering' and 'look into the faces of and really exchange greetings with such colossal figures' as Sir Joseph Hooker, Mrs Thomas Huxley and Mrs Sidgwick.

'Programme of Music', H. M. Royal Marines Band, Wagner etc to be played at the Pembroke College event.

THURSDAY, JUNE 24

'Darwin Celebration. 24th June.' Large quarto broadside, Order of procession and Conferral of Honorary Degrees. Unlike the performance he witnessed a day earlier Woodward praises highly the speech given by Sir Archibald Geikie, President of the Royal Society, who 'was proud to claim him [Darwin] as one of their great masters and in their name he begged to offer their tribute and admiration'. Woodward observes the presence of Mrs Thomas Huxley, the only woman on the floor of the Senate House and 'recalls the days in the decade following the publication [of the Origin] when her great husband constituted himself Darwin's bulldog.'

Invitation to Trinity Fellows' Garden, where the Darwin family would be 'AT HOME', accomplished in manuscript: 'Doctor and Mrs R.S. Woodward. On leaving Cambridge after this 'graciously hospitable' finale Woodward concludes that: 'every one must have felt that the Celebration had been of great historic significance and would long be remembered as a worthy expression of the high estimation in which Charles Darwin's name would be held throughout the learned world.'

FRIDAY JUNE 25 and following

'Cambridge Chronicle and University Journal', Newspaper, June 25th 1909. Extensive reporting of Darwin festivities, pp 4, 6-8; c 10,000 words.

2 newspaper clippings, one from the Times briefly mentioning Woodward, the second from the New York Times on the 'Darwin Centenary Rich in Coloring' mentioning the 'Women's Costumes Add Livelier', also mentioning Woodward's presence at the Senate House Dinner

C- PRINTED BOOK

Woodward's copy of: Order of the proceedings at the Darwin celebration held at Cambridge June 22-June 24, 1909 : with a sketch of Darwin's life. Cambridge : Printed at the Cambridge University Press, 1909. [Frontispiece, map of Cambridge 10 plates] pp 23. A fine copy.

[With] Collier, John Darwin, No.4402, a framed photographic engraving

Note: The most complete ephemeral record of an unprecedented scientific celebration.

This collection was formed by the American physicist and mathematician, Robert Simpson Woodward (then President of the Carnegie Institution) through his involvement with the Darwin Commemoration held in Cambridge between 22 and 24 June, 1909. During those three days the University of Cambridge played host to scientists, scholars and public figures from 167 different countries to celebrate the centenary of Charles Darwin's birth and the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of On the Origin of Species.

An archivist's dream Woodward received his provisional programme of events in February 1909 and had the foresight to preserve all the letters, invitations and instructive pamphlets that he received with the result that this collection is richer in ephemeral material than either the analogous archives held by Cambridge University Library or The Royal Society. In addition he wrote an (unpublished) manuscript account of his experience of the Darwin celebration which accompanies the archive.

Note: This work is signed by a number of St Kilda locals. The loosely inserted letter on Dumfries House notepaper reads: "This is going by St. Kilda "Mail-boat" some day next month, and I hope that it will eventually reach you..." Letters on the St Kilda mail boat were enclosed in a waterproof container, attached to a homemade buoy and put out to sea, in the hope that they would reach land. Remarkably, most buoys were found on the Scottish coast (although occasionally Norway) and the letters, such as this, were successfully delivered. Sands, the author of the work, is credited with inventing and trialling the St Kilda mail-boat.

CONDITIONS OF SALE 21.2

FOR BUYERS (UK)

These Conditions of Sale and the Saleroom Notices as well as specific Catalogue terms, set out the terms on which we offer the Lots listed in this Catalogue for sale. By registering to bid and/or by bidding at auction You agree to these terms, we recommend that You read them carefully before doing so. You will find a list of definitions and a glossary at the end providing explanations for the meanings of the words and expressions used.

Special terms may be used in Catalogue descriptions of particular classes of items (Books, Jewellery, Paintings, Guns, Firearms, etc.) in which case the descriptions must be interpreted in accordance with any glossary appearing in the Catalogue. These notices and terms will also form part of our terms and conditions of sales.

In these Conditions the words "Us", "Our", "We" etc. refers to Lyon & Turnbull Ltd, the singular includes the plural and vice versa as appropriate. "You", "Your" means the Buyer.

Lyon & Turnbull Ltd. acts as agent for the Seller.

A. BEFORE THE SALE

1. DESCRIPTIONS OF LOTS

Whilst we seek to describe Lots accurately, it may be impractical for us to carry out exhaustive due diligence on each Lot. Prospective Buyers are given ample opportunities to view and inspect before any sale and they (and any independent experts on their behalf) must satisfy themselves as to the accuracy of any description applied to a Lot. Prospective Buyers also bid on the understanding that, inevitably, representations or statements by us as to authorship, genuineness, origin, date, age, Provenance, condition or Estimated selling price involve matters of opinion. We undertake that any such opinion shall be honestly and reasonably held and only accept liability for opinions given negligently or fraudulently. Subject to the foregoing neither we the Auctioneer or our employees or agents accept liability for the correctness of such opinions and no warranties, whether relating to description, condition or quality of Lots, express, implied or statutory, are given. Please note that photographs/images provided may not be fully representative of the condition of the Lot and should not be relied upon as indicative of the overall condition of the Lot. All dimensions and weights are approximate only.

2. OUR RESPONSIBILITY FOR OUR DESCRIPTION OF LOTS

We do not provide any guarantee in relation to the nature of a Lot apart from our authenticity warranty contained in paragraph E.2 and to the extent provided below.

(a) Condition Reports: Condition Reports are provided on our Website or upon request. The absence of a report does not imply that a Lot is without imperfections. Large numbers of such requests are received shortly before each sale and department specialists and administration will endeavour to respond to all requests although we offer no guarantee. Any statement in relation to the Lot is merely an expression of opinion of the Seller or us and should not be relied upon as an inducement to bid on the Lot. Lots are available for inspection prior to the sale and You are strongly advised to examine any Lot in which You are interested prior to the sale. Our Condition Reports are not prepared by professional conservators, restorers or engineers. Our Condition Report does not form any contract between us and the Buyer. The Condition Reports do not affect the Buyer's obligations in any way.

(b) Estimates. Estimates are placed on each Lot to help Buyers gauge the sums involved for the purchase of a particular Lot. Estimates do not include the Buyer's Premium or VAT. Estimates are a matter of opinion and prepared in advance. Estimates may be subject to change and are for guidance only and should not be relied upon.

(c) Catalogue Alterations: Lot descriptions and Estimates are prepared in advance of the sale and may be subject to change. Any alterations will be announced on the Catalogue alteration sheet, made available prior to the sale. It is the responsibility of the Buyer to make themselves aware to any alterations which may have occurred.

3. WITHDRAWAL

Lyon & Turnbull may, at its discretion, withdraw any Lot at any time prior to or during the sale of the Lot. Lyon & Turnbull has no liability to You for any decision to withdraw.

4. JEWELLERY, CLOCKS & OTHER ITEMS

(a) Jewellery

(i) Coloured gemstones (such as rubies, sapphires and emeralds) may have been treated to enhance their look, through methods such as heating and oiling. These methods are accepted practice but may make the gemstone less strong and/or require special care in future.

(ii) All types of gemstones may have been improved by some method. You may request a gemmological report for any Lot which does not have a report. If the request is made to us at least three weeks before the date of the sale and You pay the fee for the report in advance of receiving said report.

(iii) We do not obtain a gemmological report for every gemstone sold in our sales. Where we do get gemmological reports from internationally accepted gemmological laboratories, such reports may be described in the Sale Particulars. Reports will describe any improvement or treatment only if we request that they do so, but will confirm when no improvement or treatment has been made. Because of differences in approach and technology, laboratories may not agree whether a particular gemstone has been treated, the amount of treatment or whether treatment is permanent. The gemmological laboratories will only report on the improvements or treatments known to the laboratories at the date of the report.

(iv) For jewellery sales, all Estimates are based on the information in any gemmological report or if no gemmological report is available, You should assume that the gemstones may have been treated or enhanced.

(b) Clocks & Watches: All Lots are sold "as seen" and the absence of any reference to the condition of a clock or watch does not imply the Lot is in good condition and without defects, repairs or restorations. Most clocks and watches will have been repaired during their normal lifetime and may now incorporate additional/newer parts. Furthermore, we make no representation or warranty that any clock or watch is in working order. As clocks and watches often contain fine and complex mechanisms, Buyers should be aware that a general service, change of battery or further repair work, for which the Buyer is solely responsible, may be necessary. Buyers should also be aware that we cannot guarantee a watch will remain waterproof if the back is removed. Buyers should be aware that the importing watches such as Rolex, Frank Muller and Corum into the United States is highly restricted. These watches cannot be shipped to the USA and only imported personally. Clocks may be sold without pendulums, weights or keys.

(c) Alcohol: may only be sold to persons aged of 18 years and over. By registering to bid, You affirm that You are at least that age. All collections must be signed for by a person over the age of 18. We Reserve the right to ask for ID from the person collecting. Buyers of alcohol must make appropriate allowances for natural variations of ullages, conditions of corks and wine. We can provide no guarantees as to how the alcohol may have been stored. There is always a risk of cork failure and allowance by the Buyer must be made. Alcohol is sold "as is" and quality of the alcohol is entirely at the risk of the Buyer and no warranties are given.

(d) Books-Collation: If on collation any named item in the sale Catalogue proves defective, in text or illustration the Buyer may reject the Lot provided he returns it within 21 days of the sale stating the defect in writing. This, however, shall not apply in the case of unnamed items, periodicals, autographed letters, music M.M.S., maps, drawings nor in respect of damage to bindings, stains, foxing, marginal worm holes or other defects not affecting the completeness of the text nor in respect of Defects mentioned in the Catalogue, or at the time of sale, nor in respect of Lots sold for less than £300.

(e) Electrical Goods: are sold as "works of art" only and if bought for use must be checked over for compliance with safety regulations by a qualified electrician first. Use of such goods is entirely at the risk of the Buyer and no warranties as to safety of the goods are given.

(f) Upholstered items: are sold as "works of art" only and if bought for use must be checked over for compliance with safety regulations (items manufactured prior to 1950 are exempt from any regulations). Use of such goods is entirely at the risk of the Buyer and no warranties as to safety of the goods are given. We provide no guarantee as to the originality of any wood/material contained within the item.

Neither the Auctioneer nor our employees nor agents shall be responsible for any failure to do so. Where two or more commission bids at the same level are recorded we Reserve the right in our absolute discretion to prefer the first bid so made. Bids must be expressed in the currency of the saleroom. The Auctioneer will take reasonable steps to carry out written bids at the lowest possible price, taking into account the Reserve. If You make a written bid on a Lot which does not have a Reserve and there is no higher bid than Yours, we will bid on Your behalf at around 50% of the lower Estimate or if lower the amount of Your bid.

C. DURING THE SALE

1. ADMISSION TO OUR AUCTIONS

We shall have the right at our discretion, to refuse admission to our premises or attendance at our auctions by any person. We may refuse admission at any time before, during or after the auction.

2. RESERVES

Unless indicated by an insert symbol (Δ), all Lots in this Catalogue are offered subject to a Reserve. A Reserve is the confidential Hammer Price established between us and the Seller. The Reserve is generally set at a percentage of the low Estimate and will not exceed the low Estimate for the Lot.

3. AUCTIONEER'S DISCRETION

The maker of the highest bid accepted by the Auctioneer conducting the sale shall be the Buyer and any dispute shall be settled at the Auctioneer's absolute discretion. The Auctioneer may move the bidding backwards or forwards in any way he or she may decide or change the order of the Lots. The Auctioneer may also, refuse any bid, withdraw any Lot, divide any Lot or combine any two or more Lots, reopen or continuing bidding even after the hammer has fallen.

4. BIDDING

The Auctioneer accepts bids from:

- (a) Bidders in the saleroom;
- (b) Telephone Bidders, and internet Bidders through Lyon & Turnbull Live or any other online bidding platform we have chosen to list on and;
- (c) Written bids (also known as absentee bids or commission bids) left with us by a Bidder before the auction.

Any conversion is for guidance only and we cannot be bound by any rate of exchange used. We are not responsible for any error (human or otherwise) omission or breakdown in providing these services.

7. SUCCESSFUL BIDS

Unless the Auctioneer decides to use their discretion as set out above when the Auctioneer's hammer falls, we have accepted the last bid. This means a contract for sale has been formed between the Seller and the successful Bidder. We will issue an invoice only to the registered Bidder who made the successful bid. While we send out invoices by post/ or email after the auction, we do not accept responsibility for telling You whether or not Your bid was successful. If You have bid by written bid, You should contact us by telephone or in person as soon as possible after the auction to get details of the outcome of our bid to avoid having to pay unnecessary storage charges.

8. RELEVANT LEGISLATION

You agree that when bidding in any of our sales that You will strictly comply with all relevant legislation including local laws and regulations in force at the time of the sale for the relevant saleroom location.

D. THE BUYER'S PREMIUM, TAXES AND ARTIST'S RESALE ROYALTY

1. THE PURCHASE PRICE

For each Lot purchased a Buyer's Premium of 25% of the Hammer Price of each Lot up to and including £300,000, plus 20% from £300,001 thereafter. VAT at the appropriate rate is charged on the Buyer's Premium. No VAT is payable on the Hammer Price or premium for printed books or unframed maps bought at auction. Live online bidding may be subject to an additional premium (level dependent on the live bidding service provider chosen). This additional premium is subject to VAT at the appropriate rate as above.

2. VALUE ADDED TAX

Value Added Tax is charged at the appropriate rate prevailing by law at the date of sale and is payable by Buyers of relevant Lots. Please see D.2(e) for the conditions to be fulfilled before the VAT charged on the Hammer Price may be cancelled or refunded upon exporting from the UK.

(a) Lots affixed with (†): Value Added Tax on the Hammer Price and Buyer's Premium is imposed by law on all items affixed with a dagger (†). This imposition of VAT maybe because the Seller is registered for VAT within the UK and is not operating under a Margin Scheme.

(b) Lots affixed with (‡): A reduced rate of Import Value Added Tax on the Hammer Price of 5% is payable. This indicates that a Lot has been imported from outside the UK.

(c) Lots affixed with [Q]: Standard rate of 20% of Import Value Added Tax on the Hammer Price and premium is payable. This applies to items that have been imported from outside the UK and do not fall within the reduced rate category.

(d) Lots affixed with [Q] or ‡ when these lots are released to buyers in the UK, the buyer will become the importer and must pay us Lyon & Turnbull Ltd, the import VAT at the rates noted above on the hammer price. The buyer should also note that the appropriate rate will be that in force on the date of our release and not that in force at the date of auction or payment.

(e) Export from the UK: For lots offered under the VAT Margin

Scheme and lots with [Q] or ‡ symbols attached: you may be eligible to have a VAT refund in certain circumstances if the lot is exported. Should you show us proof of export within three months of collection a VAT refund may be arranged. No VAT amounts will be refunded where the total refund is under £100. Bank/transfer charges relating to any refund will be borne by the buyer and will not be reimbursed. Please also note that all customs formalities of the destination country are the responsibility of the buyer.

3. ARTIST'S RESALE ROYALTY (DROIT DE SUITE)

This symbol § indicates works which may be subject to the Droit de Suite or Artist's Resale Right, which took effect in the United Kingdom on 14th February 2006. We are required to collect a royalty payment for all qualifying works of art. Under new legislation which came into effect on 1st January 2012 this applies to living artists and artists who have died in the last 70 years. This royalty will be charged to the Buyer on the Hammer Price and in addition to the Buyer's Premium. It will not apply to works where the Hammer Price is less than €1,000 (euros). The charge for works of art sold at and above €1,000 (euros) and below €50,000 (euros) is 4%. For items selling above €50,000 (euros), charges are calculated on a sliding scale. All royalty charges are paid to the Design and Artists Copyright Society ('DACS') and no handling costs or additional fees are retained by the Auctioneer. Resale royalties are not subject to VAT. Please note that the royalty payment is calculated on the rate of exchange at the European Central Bank on the date of the sale. More information on Droit de Suite is available at www.dacs.org.uk.

E. WARRANTIES

1. SELLER'S WARRANTIES

For each Lot the Seller gives a warranty that the Seller;

- (a) is the owner of the Lot or a joint owner of the Lot acting with the permission of the other co-owners, or if the Sellers is not the owner of or a joint owner of the Lot, has the permission of the owner to sell the Lot, or the right to do so in law; and;
- (b) Had the right to transfer ownership of the Lot to the Buyer without any restrictions or claims by anyone else.

If either other above warranties are incorrect, the Seller shall not have to pay more than the Purchase Price (as defined in the glossary) paid by You to us. The Seller will not be responsible to You for any reason for loss of profits or business, expected savings, loss of opportunity or interest, costs, damages, other damages or expense. The Seller gives no warranty in relation to any Lot other than as set out above and, as far as the Seller is allowed by law, all warranties from the Seller to You, and all obligations upon the Seller which may be added to this agreement by law, are excluded.

2. AUTHENTICITY GUARANTEE

We guarantee that the authorship, period, or origin (collectively, "Authorship") of each Lot in this Catalogue is as stated in the BOLD or CAPITALISED type heading in the Catalogue description of the Lot, as amended by oral or written saleroom notes or announcements. We make no warranties whatsoever, whether express or implied, with respect to any material in the Catalogue other than that appearing in the Bold or Capitalised heading and subject to the exclusions below:

In the event we, in our reasonable opinion, deem that the conditions of the authenticity guarantee have been satisfied, it shall refund to the original purchaser of the Lot the Hammer Price and applicable Buyer's Premium paid for the Lot by the original purchaser. This Guarantee does not apply if:

- (a) The Catalogue description was in accordance with the opinion(s) of generally accepted scholar(s) and expert(s) at the date of the sale, or the Catalogue description indicated that there was a conflict of such opinions, or
- (b) the only method of establishing that the Authorship was not as described in the Bold or Capitalised heading at the date of the sale would have been by means or processes not then generally available or accepted; unreasonably expensive or impractical to use; or likely (in our reasonable opinion) to have caused damage to the Lot or likely to have caused loss of value to the Lot, or
- (c) There has been no material loss in value of the Lot from its value had it been in accordance with its description in the Bold or Capitalised type heading.

This Guarantee is provided for a period of one year from the date of the relevant auction, is solely for the benefit of the original purchaser of the Lot at the auction and may not be transferred to any third party. To be able to claim under this Authenticity Guarantee, the original purchaser of the Lot must:

- (a) notify us in writing within one month of receiving any information that causes the original purchaser of record to dispute the accuracy of the Bold or Capitalised type heading, specifying the Lot number, date of the auction at which it was purchased and the reasons for such dispute; and
- (b) return the Lot to our registered office in the same condition as at the date of sale to the original purchaser of record and be able to transfer good title to the Lot, free from any third party claims arising after the date of such sale.

We have discretion to waive any of the above requirements. We may require the original purchaser of the Lot to obtain, at the original purchaser of Lot's cost, the reports of two independent and recognised experts in the field. The reports must be mutually acceptable to us and the original purchaser of the Lot. We shall not be bound by any reports produced by the original purchaser of the Lot, and Reserves the right to seek additional expert advice at its own expense. It is specifically understood and agreed that the rescission of a sale and the refund of the original Purchase Price paid (the successful Hammer Price, plus the Buyer's Premium) is exclusive and in lieu of any other remedy which might otherwise be available as a matter of law. Lyon & Turnbull and the Seller shall not be liable for any incidental or consequential damages incurred or claimed, including without limitation, loss of profits or interest.

3. YOUR WARRANTIES

- (a) You warrant that the funds used for settlement are not connected with any criminal activities, including tax evasion and You are neither, under investigation, have been charged with or convicted of money laundering, terrorist activities or other crimes.
- (b) Where You are bidding on behalf of another person You warrant that
- (c) You have conducted appropriate customer due diligence on the ultimate Buyer(s) of the Lot(s) in accordance with all relevant anti-money laundering legislation, consent to us relying on this due diligence, and You will retain for a period of not less than five years the documentation evidencing the due diligence. You will make such documentation promptly available for immediate inspection by a third party auditor upon our written request to do so.
- (ii) The arrangements between You and the ultimate Buyer(s) in relation to the Lot or otherwise do not, in whole or in part, facilitate tax crimes, and;
- (iii) You do not know, and have no reason to suspect that the funds used for settlement are connected with the proceeds of any criminal activity, including tax evasion, or that the ultimate Buyer(s) are under investigation or have been charged with or convicted of money-laundering, terrorist activities, or other crimes.

2. IN THE EVENT OF NON-PAYMENT

If any Lot is not paid for in full and taken away in accordance with these Conditions or if there is any other breach of these Conditions, we, as agent for the Sellers and on their behalf, shall at our absolute discretion and without prejudice to any other rights we may have, be entitled to exercise one or more of the following rights and remedies:

- (e) To charge interest at a rate of 5% a year above the Bank of Scotland base rate from time to time on all sums outstanding for more than 7 working days after the sale.
- (f) To retain that or any other Lot sold to You until You pay the Total Amount Due.
- (g) To reject or ignore bids from You or Your agent at future auctions or to impose conditions before any such bids shall be accepted.
- (h) To apply any proceeds of sale of other Lots due or which become due to You towards the settlement of the Total Amount Due by You and to exercise a lien over any of Your property in our possession for any purpose until the debt due is satisfied. You will be deemed to have granted such security to us and we may retain such property as collateral security for Your obligations to us; we may decide to sell Your property in any way we think appropriate. We will use the proceeds of the sale against any amounts You owe us and we will pay any amount left from that sale to You. If there is a shortfall, You must pay us the balance, and

- (i) Take any other action we see necessary or appropriate.

G. COLLECTION & STORAGE

It is the Buyer's sole responsibility to obtain any relevant export or import licence. The denial of any licence or any delay in obtaining licences shall neither justify the rescission of any sale nor any delay in making full payment for the Lot.

3. CITES: ENDANGERED PLANTS AND ANIMALS LEGISLATION
